AMG Reports Financial and Operating Results for the Second Quarter and First Half of 2006

Company Reports EPS of $0.86; Cash EPS of $1.30

Boston, MA, July 26, 2006 — Affiliated Managers Group, Inc. (NYSE: AMG) today reported its financial and operating results for the quarter and six months ended June 30, 2006.

Cash earnings per share ("Cash EPS") for the second quarter of 2006 were $1.30, compared to $1.13 for the second quarter of 2005, while diluted earnings per share for the second quarter of 2006 were $0.86, compared to $0.63 for the same period of 2005. Cash Net Income was $50.3 million for the second quarter of 2006, compared to $42.4 million for the second quarter of 2005. Net Income for the second quarter of 2006 was $33.9 million, compared to $26.2 million for the second quarter of 2005. (Cash EPS and Cash Net Income are defined in the attached tables.)

For the second quarter of 2006, revenue was $283.1 million, compared to $208.3 million for the second quarter of 2005. EBITDA for the second quarter of 2006 was $78.1 million, compared to $59.4 million for the same period of 2005.

For the six months ended June 30, 2006, Cash Net Income was $103.2 million, while EBITDA was $156.6 million. For the same period, Net Income was $69.2 million, on revenue of $561.2 million. For the six months ended June 30, 2005, Cash Net Income was $84.1 million, while EBITDA was $118.0 million. For the same period, Net Income was $51.8 million, on revenue of $409.9 million.

Net client cash flows for the second quarter of 2006 were approximately $2.9 billion, with net inflows in the institutional, mutual fund and high net worth channels of $2.2 billion, $289 million, and $404 million, respectively. The aggregate assets under management of AMG's affiliated investment management firms at June 30, 2006 were approximately $202 billion, an increase of $64 billion over the same period of 2005, with organic growth contributing approximately $40 billion, or more than 60%, of this increase.

"AMG produced solid earnings growth in the second quarter of 2006, notwithstanding a challenging equity market environment. Our organic growth remains strong, as net client cash flows during the quarter were $2.9 billion, driven by the strength and diversity of our Affiliates' product offerings," said Sean M. Healey, President and Chief Executive Officer of AMG. "We are very well positioned for continued growth, with broad participation across major product categories through leading firms such as AQR and First Quadrant in alternative products, Genesis and Tweedy, Browne in international equity products, and Friess Associates and Third Avenue in domestic growth and value equity products."

"Our second quarter results also demonstrate our focus on enhancing shareholder value through effective capital management, including stock repurchases," continued Mr. Healey. "During the quarter, we issued $300 million of convertible trust preferred securities at a conversion price of $150 per share. We used the proceeds to repurchase common stock, bringing our aggregate stock repurchases to approximately 4.0 million through the second quarter. Given our strong balance sheet and recurring cash flow from operations, we have ample capacity to finance attractive new investments while continuing to maximize our return on capital." Mr. Healey concluded, "AMG's prospects for making new investments remain strong, as we are widely recognized among high quality mid-sized asset managers for our track record of successful investments and unique succession planning solution for growing firms, and we continue to make excellent progress in our discussions with prospective new Affiliates."

AMG is an asset management company with equity investments in a diverse group of mid-sized investment management firms. AMG's strategy is to generate growth through the internal growth of its existing Affiliates, as well as through investments in new Affiliates. AMG's innovative transaction structure allows individual members of each Affiliate's management team to retain or receive significant direct equity ownership in their firm while maintaining operating autonomy. In addition, AMG provides centralized assistance to its Affiliates in strategic matters, marketing, distribution, product development and operations.

Certain matters discussed in this press release may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Actual results and the timing of certain events could differ materially from those projected in or contemplated by the forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including changes in the securities or financial markets or in general economic conditions, the availability of equity and debt financing, competition for acquisitions of interests in investment management firms, our ability to complete pending acquisitions, the investment performance of our Affiliates and their ability to effectively market their investment strategies, and other risks detailed from time to time in AMG's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Reference is hereby made to the "Cautionary Statements" set forth in the Company's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005.

Notes

(A) Cash Net Income is defined as Net Income plus amortization and deferred taxes related to intangible assets plus Affiliate depreciation. This supplemental non-GAAP performance measure is provided in addition to, but not as a substitute for, Net Income. The Company considers Cash Net Income an important measure of its financial performance, as management believes it best represents operating performance before non-cash expenses relating to the acquisition of interests in its affiliated investment management firms. Since acquired assets do not generally depreciate or require replacement, and since they generate deferred tax expenses that are unlikely to reverse, the Company adds back these non-cash expenses. Cash Net Income is used by the Company's management and Board of Directors as a principal performance benchmark.

The Company adds back amortization attributable to acquired client relationships because this expense does not correspond to the changes in value of these assets, which do not diminish predictably over time. The Company adds back the portion of deferred taxes generally attributable to intangible assets (including goodwill) that it no longer amortizes but which continues to generate tax deductions. These deferred tax expense accruals would be used in the event of a future sale of an Affiliate or an impairment charge, which the Company considers unlikely. The Company adds back the portion of consolidated depreciation expense incurred by Affiliates because under its Affiliate operating agreements, the Company is generally not required to replenish these depreciating assets.

- (B) EBITDA is defined as earnings before interest expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization. This supplemental non-GAAP liquidity measure is provided in addition to, but not as a substitute for, cash flow from operations. As a measure of liquidity, the Company believes EBITDA is useful as an indicator of its ability to service debt, make new investments and meet working capital requirements. EBITDA, as calculated by the Company, may not be consistent with computations of EBITDA by other companies. In reporting EBITDA by segment, Affiliate expenses are allocated to a particular segment on a pro rata basis with respect to the revenue generated by that Affiliate in such segment.
- (C) Cash earnings per share represents Cash Net Income divided by the adjusted diluted average shares outstanding. In this calculation, the potential share issuance in connection with the Company's convertible securities is measured using a "treasury stock" method. Under this method, only the net number of shares of common stock equal to the value of the contingently convertible securities and the junior convertible trust preferred securities in excess of par, if any, are deemed to be outstanding. The Company believes the inclusion of net shares under a treasury stock method best reflects the benefit of the increase in available capital resources (which could be used to repurchase shares of common stock) that occurs when these securities are converted and the Company is relieved of its debt obligation. This method does not take into account any increase or decrease in the Company's cost of capital in an assumed conversion.
- (D) On April 3, 2006, the Company completed the private placement of convertible trust preferred securities. The convertible trust preferred securities were issued to investors by a wholly-owned trust, simultaneous with the issuance of $300 million of junior subordinated convertible debentures (the "junior convertible trust preferred" or "Trust Preferred" securities) by the Company to the trust.

- (E) Convertible securities interest expense, net, includes the interest expense, net of tax, associated with the Company's contingently convertible securities and Trust Preferred securities (but excludes the interest expense associated with the Company's mandatory convertible securities).
- (F) In connection with the Company's July 2005 acquisition of First Asset Management Inc., and the resulting increase in registered products based outside the United States, the Company amended its Mutual Fund distribution channel definition to include non-institutional collective investment vehicle products registered abroad. As a result, in the third quarter of 2005, approximately $3.2 billion and $0.7 billion of existing assets under management in the Institutional and High Net Worth distribution channels, respectively, were reclassified to the Mutual Fund distribution channel, and accordingly, financial information for prior periods has been revised to conform to this presentation.
 - In addition, during the first quarter of 2006, approximately $1.5 billion and $0.6 billion of existing assets under management were reclassified to the Institutional and Mutual Fund distribution channels, respectively, from the High Net Worth distribution channel, to conform to the current period's presentation.
- (G) The Company is required to use the equity method of accounting for its investments in AQR Capital Management, LLC, Beutel, Goodman & Company Ltd. and Deans Knight Capital Management Ltd. (together, "equity method investments"). Consistent with this method, the Company has not consolidated the operating results (including the revenue) of its equity method investments in its income statement. The Company's share of its equity method investments' profits, net of intangible amortization, is reported in "Income from equity method investments." Income tax attributable to these profits is reported within the Company's consolidated income tax provision. The assets under management of equity method investments are included in the Company's reported assets under management.

- (H) Minority interest on the Company's income statement represents the profits allocated to Affiliate management owners for that period. Minority interest on the Company's balance sheet represents the undistributed profits and capital owned by Affiliate management, who retain a conditional right to sell their interests to the Company.
- (I) EITF Issue No. 04-05, "Determining Whether a General Partner, or the General Partners as a Group, Controls a Limited Partnership or Similar Entity When the Limited Partners Have Certain Rights," ("EITF 04-05"), became effective January 1, 2006. EITF 04-05 requires the Company to consolidate certain Affiliate investment partnerships (including interests in the partnerships in which the Company does not have ownership rights) in its consolidated financial statements. For the six months ending June 30, 2006, the total non-operating income associated with those partnerships was $1.5 million, while the portion attributable to the underlying investors unrelated to the Company (the "outside owners") was $1.0 million; as of June 30, 2006, the total assets attributable to these investment partnerships was $115.1 million, while the portion owned by the outside owners was $109.6 million.

AMG's Board of Directors Authorizes Share Repurchase Program

Boston, MA, July 26, 2006 — Affiliated Managers Group, Inc. (NYSE:AMG), an asset management holding company, reported that its Board of Directors authorized a share repurchase program pursuant to which AMG may repurchase up to five percent of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of common stock. This program is in addition to prior repurchase programs. The purchases will be effected in open market or privately negotiated transactions, with the timing of purchases and the amount of stock purchased determined at the discretion of AMG's management.

"We remain focused on the successful execution of our growth strategy, generating strong earnings through the organic growth of our Affiliates, as well as making accretive investments in additional high quality, mid-sized investment management firms," said Sean M. Healey, AMG's President and Chief Executive Officer. "In addition, AMG is committed to maximizing returns for our shareholders through the disciplined allocation of the strong cash flow generated by our business, including our long-standing practice of opportunistically repurchasing our shares, as appropriate."

AMG is an asset management company with equity investments in a diverse group of mid-sized investment management firms. AMG's affiliated investment management firms managed approximately $202 billion in assets at June 30, 2006.

Certain matters discussed in this press release may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Actual results and the timing of certain events could differ materially from those projected in or contemplated by the forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including changes in the securities or financial markets or in general economic conditions, the availability of equity and debt financing, competition for acquisitions of interests in investment management firms, the investment performance of our Affiliates and their ability to effectively market their investment strategies, and other risks detailed from time to time in AMG's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Reference is hereby made to the "Cautionary Statements" set forth in the Company's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005.
